Yuletide!

The Night Before Yuletide

by Cindy Tristani

'Twas the night befor Yuletide and all through the hall it was far from being quiet - everyone had a ball!
The signs were all laid in the hallway with care in hopes that someone would actually stop and read what was there The upperclassmen were nestled all snug in their beds while visions of freshmen being quiet danced in their heads with Melissa in the study lounge stealing the plant and Anita was just waking up from her semester long nap.
When out in the hallway there arose such a clatter we all peeked to see just what was the matter.
Out of her room Cindy (the brave HP) flew like a flash for the sound that we heard was quite like a crash.
What to our wondering eyes should appear but Lisa Gard and Erica's big hair - it had brushed against the tag s sending them flying in the air.

So bach to studies we dreadfully went except for Julie T. and Kay who were searching for mints These two, you see, were on their way to Graybill to see, how'd you guess, the men of Cheville.
Meanwhile back in the basement of Tess Shari, Dawn, Karla and Cindy S. were doing what they do best They wer sitting in their rooms telling bad jokes Making Lori Ann laugh loudly till finally she choked But thankgoodness Julie C. was not very far for she recently learned how to use CPR.
Things finally calmed down, but it was too goodd to be true Robyn was missing and we didn't know what to do But, we finally found her and not too soon
She was once again sleeping in Erica and Julie's room Then we decided to have a House Meeting to talk about Yuletide and do some good eating we talked about Yuletide - What's cool and what's not "We're undefeated in basketball!" blurted out Clot.
Whitney complained it was boring and long so Jen Troyer got her flute andd played the house song.
Thank goodness someone remembered house treats
'cause we all know how much food a Solah woman eats!
So back to the hall we went full fo glee only to find Michele Siler and Jodi They were dripping with sweat and thier clothes were all smelly

"Let's do some aerobics and work out those bellies!"
we stared in disgust 'till Lisa E. and Frances gave them the finger So the aerobic queens left but their smell sure did linger.
Back to our rooms after we said our good nights we turned down our stereos and turned out the lights Tired and exhausted, we climed in our beds but we just couldn't sleep. too many thoughts in our heads What willI wear, that dress or this will my date shake my hand or give me a kiss Should I eat lots of food or say I'm on a diet then take Julie's brownies and eat them in quiet But, whatever the outccome it's sure to be all right So, HAPPY YULETIDE to all and to all a good night.

Did we invite all of Cmeville or what?
